Agriculture and Biodiversity in Poland

Beata Feledyn-Szewczyk and Adam Berbeć from IUNG –
Institute of Soil Science and Plant Cultivation in Puławy PL

Agriculture in Poland is diverse: There are large, intensive farms in western Poland. In the East there are mainly small-structured family farms. In this part of the country agricultural landscapes are very diverse and valuable for biodiversity. The challenge for agricultural policy is how this richness can be maintained.
